Reconstructing Beauty

Mr Paul E Banwell FRCS(Plast) is a fully-accredited plastic and cosmetic surgeon based in the UK. He holds an NHS Consultant position in plastic surgery at the famous Queen Victoria Hospital, East Grinstead and practises privately in the South East and along the South Coast.

Paul has developed an international reputation in the fields of cosmetic surgery, skin health and skin cancer and lectures worldwide on these subjects. He has an extensive research portfolio and is a Visiting Professor of Plastic Surgery to Harvard Medical School and has won multiple teaching accolades within Oxford University.

During his time in the UK and abroad, he has had extensive exposure and training in aesthetic surgical practice and specialises in all aspects of cosmetic surgery but is particularly well known for breast augmentation, labiaplasty and mummy makeovers.

He has appeared regularly in the media (BBC1, ITV, Channel 4, The Times, Telegraph, Daily Mail and The Sun) and was recently listed in The Times Magazine as one of the UK's Top Doctors.

Q Which words describe your bedside manner?

A Friendly, warm and relaxed.

Q What is the best advice you've ever received?

Testimonials

HF, Mini Abdominoplasty patient

“From the welcome I got on my first visit to post-op consultations, the team were very friendly. Mr Banwell is undoubtedly the most professional and caring surgeon I could wish for. I have felt completely confident in his expertise, and am thrilled with the results. I would not hesitate – and indeed have – recommended him.”

MS, Breast Augmentation patient

“Mr Banwell and his team were really great. They were friendly, professional and lovely to deal with. Mr Banwell did amazing work for me and I'm absolutely delighted with the outcome. I would highly recommend Mr Banwell to anyone who is thinking about breast augmentation.”
