But Cameron Diaz' very age-defying appearance has aroused suspicion to whether it's down to good genes or not.

The star, who will be 40 this year, showed off an array of stylish outfits with cropped hair and was also talk of the town because of her glowingly youthful face.

Leading beauty expert, Paul Banwell, has claimed Cam's fresh looks may not be natural, he said: "Cameron Diaz is gorgeous but recent pictures indicate that she might have over done it a little with the Botox to her forehead and dermal fillers to her cheeks.

"The results is an excessively taught, plumped shiny face."

The expert added: "This highlights the work more and may suggest that the person is actually older than they really are.

"Less is definitely more when it comes to fighting the signs of ageing and achieving results that will get people talking for the right reasons."

Ooo!
